

Engine Engine Number 9
Roger Miller

G

Engine engine number nine coming down that railroad line

D7

How much farther back did she get off

Old brown suitcase that she carried

I've looked for it everywhere

It just ain't here among the rest

G Am D7

And I'm a little upset yes tell me

G

Engine engine number nine coming down the railroad line

Dm G7 C Em Am

I know she got on in Baltimore

C

A hundred and ten miles ain't much distance

G

But it sure do make a difference

D7

G

I don't think she loves me any more

I warned her of the dangers don't speak to strangers

If by chance she finds a new romance

D7

Warmer lips to kiss her arms to hold her tighter

Stirring new fires inside her

How I wish that it was me

G            Am    D7

Instead of he that stands beside her

G

Engine engine number nine coming down the railroad line

Dm            G7    C   Em   Am

I know she got on in Baltimore

C

A hundred and ten miles ain't much distance

G

But it sure do make a difference

D7                            G

I don't think she loves me any more

D7                            G

I don't think she loves me any more

D7                            G

I don't think she loves me any more
