

Kokomo, IN - Japanese Breakfast // 2021 // key: A

A<sup>maj7</sup>                      Bm                      Dm                      A<sup>maj7</sup>-
Intro:        If I could throw my arms around you        for just another day
F<sup>#m</sup>        Bm- Dm        A<sup>maj7</sup>
Maybe it'd feel like the first time
Now that you're away, I'll just spend my life not knowing how it'd feel... to...

1. These days I can't shake the awful feeling I'm missing something I can't place
                                 Bm                      C<sup>#m</sup>                      E
Is that you, manifesting like the fear of an oven left on
E-D-A E                      Bm                      Dm                      Dm
                                 God, I felt so much back then, I was soft as a dune

A                      E                      Bm                      D
Chorus:    If ever you come back,        wherever you find your way to
A                      E                      Bm                      D
                                 And though it may not last,        just know that I'll be here longing

Solo: | A | E | Bm | D |
      | A | E | Bm | D |

2. I'll wait, passing time just popping wheelies and kicking round this flyover state
                                 Bm                      C<sup>#m</sup>                      E
Watching you show off to the world the parts I fell so hard for
E-D-A E                      Bm                      Dm
                                 God, I wish we could go back there, left alone in my room
A                      C<sup>#m</sup>        Bm                      Dm                      Dm
                                 I know they deserve you too and maybe I'm not that worthy

A                      E                      Bm                      D
Chorus:    If ever you come back,        wherever you find your way to
A                      E                      Bm                      D
                                 And though it may not last        just know that I'll be here longing
A                      E                      Bm                      D
                                 If ever you come back        wherever you find your way to
A                      E                      Bm                      D
                                 And though it may not last        just know that I'll be here always

Outro: [repeat, solo, fade out] | A | E | Bm | D |
